ABOUT ME

I am a Graduate Developer looking for the next challenge to further improve my software development skills.

My background in hospitality and financial services has inspired curiosity and ambition to join the website and application development sector in order to make people's everyday lives easier.

I am a natural problem solver and have a genuine interest in improving customer satisfaction. This has directly influenced my work ethic and ensured I approach every project with determination and drive. Further to this, I am continually learning (React, SQL, Java, Microsoft Azure Fundamentals and Microsoft Power Platform Fundamentals) and improving my skills in creating high-quality web pages and applications.
